

Professor Michael Botelho
Clinical Professor in Prosthodontics
Faculty of Dentistry
The University of Hong Kong

Biography:

Professor Michael Botelho has been at HKU for 25 years and been actively engaged in educational reform pedagogy and innovation. In education, he has over 20 peer reviewed publications and 8 book chapters and participated in 19 education grants. He has lectured and consulted in Hong Kong, across South-East Asia and in Europe and North America. His educational research interests are related to video and online learning, PBL, active learning and the flipped class. and student discourse. He has a number of teaching awards including the UGC Teaching Award. He is long-term committed educator and scholar of teaching and learning and still enthusiastic to create improved and novel learning experience for our students.